Seed company hints at planting jobs in city

By JIM ALLEN
City editor

A major seed producer is considering planting a packaging outlet in Charleston which could bring several much-needed jobs to the area, The Daily Eastern News has learned.

Garst Seed Co., the nation's third largest agricultural seed producer, is looking for a site to build a packaging plant by 1988 and is considering Charleston, a company official confirmed Monday.

Garst regional sales manager Dean Steinkoenig said Monday the company is looking for a location south of Champaign and east of Decatur for the plant.

While confirming that Charleston is in the running, he added that Mattoon, Oakland and Sullivan are among other candidates.

The plant would bring at least 50 full-time jobs, he said, in addition to 2,000 to 3,000 part-time seasonal jobs.

"All I know for sure is that there will be a plant built and it is likely to be in east-central Illinois or west-central Indiana," Steinkoenig said.

While city officials from Charleston have yet to meet with Steinkoenig, he said he has talked with the Charleston Area Chamber of Commerce, officials from neighboring cities and the area's state legislators.

Iris Campbell, who was made executive vice president of the CACC this month, confirmed that the chamber has "had some initial contact" with the seed company.

"In general, we talked about them wanting to locate in Illinois and possibly in Charleston," Campbell said.

The chamber will work with the city, she said, to put together a package on what Charleston can offer the firm.

"I think it would be great if we could get them here," Campbell said, adding that the plant would bring "jobs we could definitely use—it would be a boost for Charleston's economy."

Steinkoenig said he has also talked about the plant with State Sen. Max Coffey, R-Charleston, Rep. Mike Weaver, R-Charleston and Harry "Babe" Woodyard, a Republican seeking the Senate seat Coffey plans to vacate.

"Sales in this part of the country are going well" and are "encouraging," Steinkoenig said. "We just want to proceed with it."

One drawback for Charleston, however, is that the firm is looking favorably at "interstate" locations, he said. "That may be a factor that

ICTC moves student billing office to West Park Plaza

'Early confusion' about where to make payments causes several disconnections

By LARRY KAHAN
Staff Writer

In an effort to update billing procedures for Eastern student accounts the Illinois Consolidated Telephone Company moved from Thomas Hall to 638 W. Lincoln in the West Park Plaza.

However, ICTC employee Jim Watkins said "early confusion" in the processing of payments from several Eastern students was the cause of several disconnections of telephones.

Watkins said all phones that were reportedly disconnected have been reconnected, however he would not say how many phones were disconnected.

Douglas Hall Resident Assistant Ken Chrzanowski said his phone was

As an RA I felt I should have been informed of the new location.

disconnected by ICTC even though he made his payment at about 2 p.m. on Dec. 20 at the University Union drop box.

"As an RA I felt I should have been informed of the new location," Chrzanowski said.

"They apparently had a sign at the Thomas Hall office explaining the move, but there should have been prior notice."

The new billing format will include a computer payment card requiring roommates to pay their bills at the same time, a system implemented to avoid confusion.

Eastern students can pay their bills from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

The night deposit boxes located at the cashier's stand in the Union and at 805 Seventh St. are still available to students as an alternative to going to the Communication Center to pay their bills.

Watkins said he believed the night deposit boxes were the most convenient way for students to pay their bills.

"With the new payment procedure in operation we hope to modernize the system which will make things easier for the students.

"I suggest that the students use the drop boxes which will be more convenient for them," Watkins said.

Housing Director Lou Hencken said he thinks the new system will benefit students by enabling them to avoid long lines.

John Cafferty tickets going at 'average' rate

By MICHELLE MUELLER
Activities editor

Ticket sales for the upcoming John Cafferty and the Beaver Brown Band concert are "average," Student Activities Director Anita Craig said.

The ticket sales for this performance are in line with other concerts Eastern has had in recent years.

"I would say this is pretty close to a pattern" that Eastern's concerts have been following for the past few years, Craig said.

The concert is at 8 p.m. Jan. 24 in Lantz Gym. "Flash Kahan" is the opening act.

Tickets went on sale Thursday at the Union Ticket Office, and as of Friday, the office had sold 250 tickets, Craig said. She did not know how many tickets were sold Monday.

Additional tickets went on sale at several off-campus outlets on Friday.

Off-campus outlets include Mazuma, 1406 6th St.,

Mr. Music in Mattoon, Record Service in Champaign and Carma in Terre Haute.

The outlets receive 100 tickets as a base, and Mr. Music has already sold its tickets and has received a second lot, Craig said.

"We're pretty much on target. We're hoping to be able to meet expenses," Craig said.

She added that Lantz has a 5,200 capacity and that 3,000 tickets must be sold to meet expenses.

The cost of the performance will be $8,000 for Cafferty and $1,000 for "Flash Kahan."

The total cost of the concert, including advertising and labor, is expected to be about $10,000, Dave Shaw, administrative assistant to the concert committee, has said.

Tickets are $8 for the public and $6 for students. Students must present ID's at the door.

The Union Ticket Office is open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Case of man's 'suicide' reopens

CROWN POINT, IND.—Authorities have reopened an investigation into a death initially ruled a suicide although the man's skull was fractured by 32 hammer blows, a prosecutor said today.

Hobart police had ruled the April 6 death of James A. Cooley, 52, a suicide despite the protests of the coroner, who insisted Cooley had been killed.

"It is my opinion that further investigation into the death of Mr. Cooley is warranted," Lake County Prosecutor Jack F. Crawford said.

State Police will conduct the investigation with the cooperation of Hobart police, Crawford said at a news conference attended by the state police investigators and five members of Cooley's family.

Capt. Larry Delaney said state police detectives began their work in the case earlier this month.

Study shows hunger in America

BOSTON—There are 150 counties across the United States, many of them in the Farm Belt, where poverty and restricted access to food stamps leave large numbers of Americans without enough to eat, says a news report.

The finding that so many of the nation's hungriest counties are in the Mississippi Valley and Great Plains states came as a surprise, said authors of the report, being issued Tuesday by the Harvard University School of Public Health and the Physicians Task Force on Hunger in America.

They said much of the problem was due to the failure of federal assistance programs to reach the needy.

Dignitaries honor King's birthday

CHICAGO—Gov. James R. Thompson, Chicago Mayor Harold Washington, and Cardinal Joseph Bernardin are among dignitaries expected at a mass rally on the eve of the first federal holiday honoring the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., the civil rights leader assassinated in 1968.

King, a winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, once singled out Chicago as the most segregated northern city.

"Chicago has waited a long time for Doctor King's birthday to become a national holiday. A large portion of our dream is finally being realized by the official recognition of the greatness of Doctor King," Washington, the city's first black mayor, said Monday.

Reagan calls for apartheid reforms and South African independence

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The State Department's top Africa specialist gave President P.W. Botha a letter from President Reagan on Monday, and a judge upheld an order barring black activist Winnie Mandela from her home.

At Stutterheim in eastern Cape Province, a black policeman fired into a mob of 1,000 blacks who attacked his home with gasoline bombs. Three people were shot to death, including a woman, police said.

They reported anti-apartheid rioting and stone-throwing in six other centers of the country. About 1,000 people, nearly all of them black, have been killed in 16 months of violence.

Chester A. Crocker, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, is here to press the white-minority government on apartheid and independence for South-West Africa. He gave Botha the letter from Reagan in a 90-minute meeting in Cape Town.

Crocker, who made no statement, then met for more than five hours with foreign and defense ministers. The Cape Argus newspaper reported, without attribution, that Reagan appealed for "decisive action" on reforms in apartheid and on independence for South-West Africa, also called Namibia, which South Africa controls in defiance of the United Nations.

Crocker arrived Sunday from Angola, the Marxist-ruled country on Namibia's northern border. South Africa periodically sends military units into Angola in search of Namibian guerrillas.

Angola's government also claims that South African troops fight alongside Angolan rebels, while South Africa and the United States demand the withdrawal of approximately 20,000 Cuban military personnel stationed in Angola.

In Johannesburg, Judge Louis le Grange upheld a Dec. 21 government order barring Mandela from her home in the huge black township of Soweto outside the city.

He gave Mandela, who has been in hiding near Johannesburg for nearly two weeks, permission to appeal to the Supreme Court.

Government programs face cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government will overshoot this year's deficit target by some $4.7 billion, focusing cuts of 4.3 percent in domestic programs and 4.9 percent for the military on March 1, Reagan administration officials said Monday.

The cuts would have been far larger had Congress not limited them under a new budget-balancing law to $11.7 billion for the remainder of fiscal 1986, which began last Oct. 1.

Still, they were expected to produce major disruptions throughout the federal bureaucracy.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said the Office of Management and Budget had notified federal agencies of the cuts necessary to carry out the new Gramm-Rudman budget-balancing law.

The law, whose constitutionality is being challenged in federal court by a dozen members of Congress and by a federal employees union, seeks to reduce the annual deficit to zero by 1991 through a series of steps—beginning with a reduction to $172 billion in 1986.

Under the act, the $11.7 billion in cuts are to be triggered if the estimated deficit for fiscal 1986—as calculated by the OMB and the Congressional Budget Office—exceeds the 1986 target by $20 billion or more.

The CBO and the OMB are to issue their separate projections on the deficit Wednesday. However, officials at both agencies already have said their reports would easily show deficits high enough to trigger the cuts.

A congressional official who spoke only on condition of anonymity said the CBO forecast of the deficit will top $220 billion.

Foundation buys local home for new offices

By TERI BROWN
Staff writer

The EIU Foundation has finalized plans to purchase property at 1548 Fourth St. from an Eastern employee to help alleviate space problems.

Foundation Fiscal Director Daniel Thornburgh said an agreement to purchase the property has been signed and that the house will be bought by Jan. 31.

The property is being purchased from Richard Hofstrand of Academic Affairs and his wife Judith in order to provide more space.

"Two new employees were recently hired and there's no room for them. There are also two other employees who used temporary space in the Radio-TV Transmitter Room and are now in the Journalism Department," Thornburgh said.

The building will house Foundation office administration with board members, secretarial staff, the Alumni Association, the Alumni Services and the Office of Development.

Thornburgh and Hofstrand both

The EIU Foundation has finalized plans to purchase this house, located at 1548 Fourth St. The purchase will help provide needed office space.

refused to give the purchase price, citing that the transaction was "private, not public."

But Thornburgh said the Foundation, not the university, would be paying for the property and that the move would be completed by June 30.

The purchase price, however, will be on record at the Coles County Courthouse after the legal transaction papers are filed Jan. 31.

The Hofstrands, who currently live in the house, are looking for another home in Charleston.

"We're going to miss living here," Hofstrand said. "It's convenient because it's right across the street from the campus. But we thought it was better for them (the Foundation) and us."

Thornburgh said the Foundation was happy about the move.

"It represents the growth in the Foundation," he said, "and will be an asset because it will help form a separate identification of the Foundation from the university."

Charles Titus, secretary of the Foundation and director of the Alumni Services, agreed, saying, "I think it's a good move. We are in need of space and that will help solve it. It's definitely a step in the right direction."

Council studies proposed water-rate increase plan

By JIM ALLEN
City editor

Charleston's City Council will meet Tuesday in a press conference and is expected to discuss a private firm's study recommending water rate increases to fund a sewer project.

Commissioners are also expected to thank state legislators expected to attend the meeting who had a hand in securing Build Illinois funds for the project.

Speer Financial, Inc. recently performed a study for the city on how to finance $4 million in city bonds for the water and sewer separation project.

While Council Executive Assistant Chris Bezruki would not release the percentage increases recommended by the study, he said the rate hike recommendations extend over the next five years.

Bezruki said he did not want to release the figures in advance because he did "not want to lend too much weight" to the recommendations.

The council is also expected to discuss the collapsed spillway of the Lake Charleston dam.

The dam, which collapsed in late November, will need to be either replaced or at least repaired, city commissioners have said.

Currently cost estimates are being prepared by Hanson Engineering Inc. of Springfield.

Record rains in November helped to rip open a section of the dam's spillway and caused five of its 76-ton cement supports to buckle away from the 38-year-old structure.

State Legislators expected to attend are State Rep. Mike Weaver, R-Charleston and State Rep. Harry "Babe" Woodyard, R-Chrisman. Woodyard is seeking the Republican nomination for the state seat being vacated by Sen. Max Coffey, R-Charleston.

Divestment debate continues

By TERI BROWN
Staff writer

A report on the EIU Foundation's decision not to divest its $229,013 holdings in South Africa will be discussed at Tuesday's Faculty Senate meeting.

Senate representative Terry Perkins expressed the senate's recommendation to divest at the Foundation's executive meeting Dec. 14.

Despite the recommendations, the Foundation Board of Directors voted unanimously at its Jan. 3 meeting to continue its policy of investing in companies doing business in South Africa, as long as those companies adhere to the Sullivan Principles.

Daniel Thornburgh, fiscal agent for the board, said after the foundation's January meeting that the decision was in the best interest of Eastern.

"I think it was a very responsible vote. Our advice from Harris Bank (which handles the Foundation's investments) is that one cannot divest without serious financial loss."

The Senate meets 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Union addition Martinsville Room.

Eastern athletes placed on court supervision

Two Eastern basketball players charged with retail theft were fined and placed on court supervision Friday, according to Assistant State's Attorney Mike Radloff.

Jerry Strickland, 19, and Cornelius "Jay" Taylor, 18, were both fined $90, placed on court supervision for six months and ordered to perform 30 hours each in community service, Radloff said.

In addition, he said the court agreement reached Friday allows the two players to leave the state to play for Eastern during the court supervision period.

The two full-scholarship cagers had been charged with the Dec. 26 theft of $15 in film from Wilb Walker's, 1460 S. E. St.

Coach Rick Samuels suspended both players for two away games, and both players have since returned to the lineup.

Build Illinois funds to benefit Eastern campus

Until recently, Gov. James R. Thompson's Build Illinois program seemed like just another story in the morning newspaper's business section.

But over winter break, the $2.3 billion economic development plan became wonderfully real for Eastern as word came from Springfield that a $230,000 chunk of that money would be pumped into planning the new College of Business annex to Coleman Hall.

With the annex, Eastern's business courses, which are currently scattered throughout the campus, can be consolidated into Coleman Hall without squeezing out other departments currently housed there.

Thompson's Build Illinois program was created to improve housing, economic development and the business climate in the state.

Obviously, education must play a major part in such ambitious goals.

And, despite its relatively small size, Eastern is the perfect player for such a part. The quality of our business curriculum is well-known, our College of Business is on the verge of accreditation and we are right in the center of an area ripe for an economic upswing.

In other words, we have the capacity—and the responsibility—to put the state's gift to good use.

The decision to give Eastern the funds was based on the theory that if state universities start churning out more educated and capable business students, they, in turn, will start churning out a better state economy.

This is a sound theory and one that can work if it's executed properly.

That means getting the annex built as soon as possible and filling it with the best college of business a university Eastern's size can muster up.

Creating the business annex will also mean continuing to upgrade the business curriculum, which will hand the economy a crop of highly educated, invaluable young businessmen and women.

Add/drop experience disheartening; advice of praying, pleading offered

As far as I know, I'm supposed to graduate in May. As this concluding ritual of the college experience approaches, I realize all the aspects of Eastern that I will miss—the bars, the friends and the freedom. But there is one thing I will not be sad to leave behind, and that's add/drops.

Among the many facts I have crammed into my puny brain during my collegiate career is that add/drops are inescapable.

I have used every technique imaginable to avoid this grueling experience.

Surprisingly, I have found that the most ineffective method of avoiding add/drops is to pre-register. Every time I've been a good little girl and been organized enough to request my classes before the new semester starts, I find myself anxiously pleading with the folks at add/drops to please allow me into some class.

After I went through this experience for three semesters, I adopted a new approach to acquiring classes. I went through central registration. This technique proved futile, also. Most classes were closed. Hence, I had you wait in hot lines twice, once for registration and once for add/drops.

A few times I have so desperately desired the opportunity to get into a class that I have offered to buy the class from somebody. I told people that if they would drop it while I tried to add it, I would pay them millions of dollars. This strategy was stupid because everyone knows I'm always broke.

But silly me, I thought this year would be different. I'm a second semester senior. I'm supposed to get whatever I want so I can have fond memories of my alma mater. I was illusioned. Now I'm disillusioned.

I still found myself short of two classes. One of the classes did not worry me. I knew I had to add it anyway because I had to take 18 hours this semester to earn my degree. The divine people in Old Main won't let people pre-register for more than

What's the point?

Diane Schneidman

17 hours—a ridiculous rule in my opinion.

The other class did worry me. It was the only one I could take to get out of this institution.

I spent most of my winter break trying to convince my parents that I would get the necessary course. You see, my mother was convinced that Eastern had some dastardly plot to keep me here forever. I kept telling her that Eastern did not want to keep somebody like me. In fact, a sigh of relief was probably sound through the campus when I crossed the stage to shake Rives' hand. But you know how mothers are.

I did such a good job of convincing my parents that I would get the class, that by the time I returned from home I too believed I would get it just by walking through the doors to the ballroom.

I was wrong. Naivety strikes again. I got the other class I needed, but I still didn't get the one I was worried about. I proceeded to pray and plead—two practices which one becomes quite good at after four years at Eastern.

Eventually the chairman of the department took mercy on this poor soul, and I am now an official student of the class.

All of this leads me to lend underclassmen a bit of sage advice. First of all, always anticipate foul-ups in schedules. Secondly, learn to love standing in line. Thirdly, become adept at the art of pleading. Finally, be nice to people with power.

Auditions begin Tuesday for 'Kennedy's Children'

By DEBBIE PIPPITT
Staff writer

Auditions for Robert Patrick's play, "Kennedy's Children" will be at 7 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday at the Doudna Fine Arts Center theater, director Deborah Gwisdalla said.

There are six roles in the play, five of which are speaking parts. Of the six, two are for women and three are for men, Gwisdalla said.

The characters include a bartender (non-speaking), a secretary turned school teacher, a Vietnam veteran, a "flamboyant actor," an "aspiring actress" and a political activist.

The action takes place in a bar in 1974, Gwisdalla said.

"The characters are throwbacks from the 1960s," Gwisdalla said.

The play was on Broadway in 1975, then soon became a smash hit on six continents, said J. Sain, who is in charge of promotions and management for theater arts and plays.

Sain said the play won the Glasgow Citizens Theater World Playwright Award in 1975, and numerous English critics named it "best play" in 1975.

Gwisdalla said the play is "very serious and for a mature audience only."

The play is strictly monologue, meaning the characters never actually talk with one another, only to the audience, Gwisdalla said.

Students may pick up scripts at the Theater Arts department, or they may prepare a monologue, Gwisdalla said.

The cast will be announced Friday, Sain said.

"Kennedy's Children" will be presented at 8 p.m. Feb. 14-17, in the Doudna Fine Arts Center. The Sunday performance is at 2 p.m.

Auditions for the upcoming comedy, "Tartuffe," by Moliere, will be in early February.

Petitions available for Student Senate seats

Another position has opened on Student Senate with the resignation of Stephanie Burkes from her Residence Hall seat.

Burkes' resignation leaves six senate seats to be filled.

Petitions for the three at large seats, one off-campus and two Residence Hall seats can be picked up in the Student Government office and must be returned by 5 p.m. Jan. 27, Senate Speaker Joe O'Mera said.

Burkes said he resigned for "personal reasons."

Currently eight petitions have been picked up for the open positions, O'Mera added. The seats will be filled at the Jan. 29 Senate meeting.

Cards aid in establishing credit

By DOUGLAS BACKSTROM
Senior reporter

Although one of the best ways for college students to obtain credit is by taking out a loan, a simpler and more valuable way is by getting a credit card, two credit officials said.

Credit cards are easier to obtain than a loan and, because students realize they should establish credit now, they are more valuable, said Patty Miller, marketing director at Central National Bank in Mattoon.

Tim Gover, from Eastern's accounting and finance department, agreed with Miller and said if students establish credit before they graduate, it will be easier for them to buy cars or rent apartments.

However, Miller said students need to be aware that they are a greater credit risk which could cause problems for them.

"If a student is from out of town and they don't know anyone in the town they are in, it makes it difficult for them to obtain credit," she said.

A credit institution cannot be sure a student in temporary residence will not use the card and then leave town without leaving a forwarding address, she said.

However, Gover said, "Students are more responsible and mature and they realize the importance of establishing credit now."

In addition, Gover said college students inevitably have some form of income, whether it comes from a part-time job or an allowance from their parents. He said students spend money no matter how much they earn.

Gover said retailers realize how competitive it is for students to purchase items. Therefore, college town retailers realize that students with credit cards may help their business.

To obtain a credit card, Miller said students must only prove that they are enrolled in school and have a bank account.

When obtaining a credit card, Miller said there are certain criteria students should follow that fit their personal income best.

"They need to get what's best for their income with annual fees, late fees and finance charges," she said. "Also, some have a service charge before purchasing something with the card and after."

In addition, Miller said once students have obtained a credit card, they should try to pay the entire balance once they receive the bill.

"If they don't, they could face an annual 21 percent in interest," she said.

Seminars help different departments get together

By CRAIG EDWARDS
Staff writer

Eastern faculty members have the opportunity to learn while they eat by attending noon faculty seminars sponsored by the Faculty Development office.

According to David Maurer, faculty development coordinator, the seminars began in 1979 as a way of bringing faculty members from different departments together.

About eight seminars are scheduled each year on a variety of topics.

The first faculty seminar for the spring semester is at noon Thursday in the University Union Rathskellar. The seminar, "EIU and the Black Hills," will be taught by geology instructor Gary Wallace.

Political science instructor, Andrea Bonnicksen, led a seminar on "Daily Life in South Asia" last semester and has attended other seminars in recent years.

"The seminars give faculty members the opportunity to share with each other what they have learned from teaching, traveling, and research," she said.

"The seminars benefit both the speaker and the listeners and help to bring faculty members closer together to get to know each other."

Although the seminars are directed toward faculty members, students and area residents can also attend.

The seminars are between noon and 1 p.m. at the University Union Rathskellar. Food service is available, with lectures from 12:15 to 12:50 p.m.

Other noon seminars this semester are:

•Feb. 19—"Dueling at Dawn and Other Times: Career Couples," by educational psychology instructor Melanie Rawlins and Larry Rawlins.

•March 20—"Nutrition in Peru: Hope for the Future," by Home Economics instructor Ruth Dow.

•April 16—"The Origin of Life: A Biologist's View," by botany instructor Terry Weidner.

Seed

Charleston can't handle."

Garst Seed Co. is based in Coon Rapids, Iowa, and produces corn, sorghum, alfalfa and wheat seeds. Once an affiliate of Pioneer Seed, the two firms split in 1983.

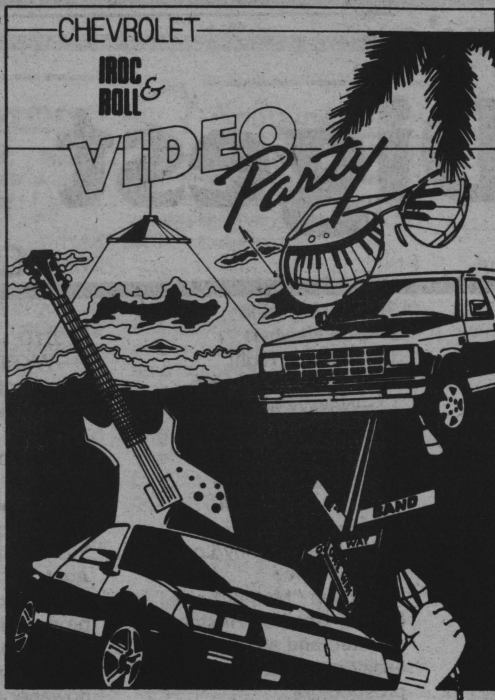

Since their departure from Pioneer, Garst has looked to expand east of the Mississippi River, Steinkoenig said.

Currently Garst has a research station in nearby Monticello, where the company performs hybrid seed testing and other agricultural research.

The company's headquarters are located an hour west of Des Moines, Iowa.

Wrestlers set for Huskies

By MIKE NELSON
Staff writer

Eastern's wrestlers will attempt to boost their record to 6-0 Tuesday night as the Panthers entertain the Huskies of Northern Illinois at 7:30 p.m. in Lantz Gym.

Eastern, which took a clean sweep of dual meets over the weekend against Missouri and Central Missouri State, will enter the matchup with little knowledge of Northern.

"We've only seen them at tournaments where they didn't have a full squad, so we haven't been able to evaluate them as a team," Eastern coach Ralph McCausland said.

"I have seen a few of their individuals and I know they're strong at 134, 150, 158, and 177 (pounds). These weight classes are their more quality individuals," McCausland said.

The lineup for Eastern will have one change. Todd Sterr (126) will be out of the lineup for the Panthers, but a replacement won't be decided until Tuesday, McCausland said.

The rest of Eastern's starters will be Craig Sterr (118), Dean Souder (134), Paul Cysewski (142), Keith Presley (150), Chris McFarland (158), Ozzie Porter (167), Marty Molina (177), and Demetrius Harper in the heavyweight class.

"I felt we wrestled well Friday night against Missouri, but I think NIU is going to be a stronger team," McCausland said.

Craig Sterr, Presley, McFarland and Porter all completed with the weekend's competition with perfect records in the two matches in which they competed.

McFarland holds the Panthers' best overall record at 18-2, while Porter comes in at 16-4, including a pin of Central Missouri's Jim Alfano in Saturday's match.

Overconfidence? Not when you're in the Super Bowl

LAKE FOREST, ILL. (AP)—Coach Mike Ditka isn't worried about his Chicago Bears being hit by distractions or overconfidence before the Jan. 26 Super Bowl.

"If you get this far and you don't concentrate on football, then you have to get another job," Ditka said Monday at his weekly news conference.

The Bears, rolling with a 17-1 record including a 24-0 triumph over the Los Angeles Rams for the National Conference championship Sunday, will meet the New England Patriots in the 20th Super Bowl in New Orleans.

"We're going to go down and play and hope to play a good football game," Ditka said. "And then we'll go back and go about our lives."

The Bears will play the same Patriots they defeated 20-7 in the regular-season's second game. The Patriots didn't score in that game until Tony Eason hauled a 90-yard touchdown pass to Craig James in the fourth quarter.

How will Ditka guard against overconfidence?

"We'll tell them not to read the Chicago papers," he said.

The Patriots defeated Miami 31-14 Sunday to win the American Conference championship.

Ditka said he wasn't surprised the Patriots beat the Dolphins.

"I thought the winner of the Patriots and (Los Angeles) Raiders game would make it to the Super Bowl," he said.

The Patriots, only the third "wild-card" team to reach the Super Bowl, defeated the New York Jets 26-14 and the Raiders 27-20 before eliminating the Dolphins. All three victories were on the road.

"New England is a balanced team, a lot like us," said Ditka.

"They can run, and they can pass from different formations. They can rush the passer, and they can stop the run on defense. And their kicking game is good."

Ditka said he thought the game against the Rams was won early when the Bears took a 10-0 lead in the first quarter on Jim McMahon's 16-yard touchdown run and Kevin Butler's 34-yard field goal.

"When you dominate so much on defense the way we did, it's hard to see how we could lose after getting the lead," said Ditka.

Pats hope to steal-away in quest for Super Bowl title

BOSTON (AP)—If stealing were a crime on the football field, the New England Patriots would be marked as habitual offenders. Instead, they may be rewarded with football's grand prize—a Super Bowl victory.

They led the AFC with 47 takeaways during the regular season, an average of 2.9 per game. They surpassed even that thievery in upsetting three playoff opponents to become only the third wild-card team to reach the National Football League title game.

"We went into the game saying we needed five turnovers and to play reckless defense," said free safety Fred Marion, who had his third playoff interception in Sunday's 31-14 AFC championship victory over the Miami Dolphins. "We've felt from the beginning of the year we needed to create more turnovers."

They had six against Miami which led to 24 of their 31 points. In the three playoff contests, the Patriots have intercepted seven passes and recovered nine fumbles. Those 16 turnovers, an average of 5.3 per game, resulted in 61 of their 84 points.

New England has turned the ball over just four times in those games and opponents have capitalized on that for 14 of their 48 points.

If the Patriots beat the Chicago Bears in the Super Bowl on Jan. 26, they will have playoff victories over the New York Jets, Los Angeles Raiders, Dolphins and Bears, four of the five teams they lost to during the regular season.

"We lost to the Bears," said offensive tackle Brian Holloway. "I think that's a factor in our favor."

"Our work isn't over just because we go into the Super Bowl," said defensive end Julius Adams. "We want to win to make this season complete."

There is nothing magical about the turnover fortunes of the Patriots.

Most of the time, they get turnovers by slamming into the ball carrier.

Fast start propels Panthers by rival Western

By DAN VERDUN
Assistant sports editor

From the moment he whipped the Lantz Gym crowd of 2,756 into a frenzy during the player introductions, senior guard Doug Crook and his Panther teammates knew this one was special.

Eastern, fueled by high emotion and a breakaway start, throttled arch-rival Western Illinois 81-68 Monday to move to 3-0 in Association of Mid-Continent Universities' conference action.

"The crowd was great," said a smiling Crook afterward. "They (the crowd) let Western know this was our home court."

"That (fast start) was the key. It was a start like we had against Southwest Missouri in last year's conference championship (win) here."

The win boosted the Panthers' overall record to 10-4. Western fell to 6-8 overall and 1-1 in the AMCU.

The Panthers took control of the game from the very beginning when forward Jon Collins nailed a 15-foot jumper and Eastern raced to a 10-0 lead.

Like Crook, Eastern coach Rick Samuels noted the enthusiastic crowd's impact on the game.

"In college basketball, the crowd has a significant impact on the game," Samuels said. "We knew they'd (Western) come in here hungry, especially after losing to us in last year's conference semifinals."

Senior center Kevin Duckworth led a balanced Eastern attack by scoring 22 points and hauling down 10 rebounds.

Collins added 18 points and four rebounds to the Panther cause, while Crook chipped in 12 points.

But it was freshman forward Dave Vance who perhaps rose to the occasion more than any Panther.

Vance—called a "steal of a recruit" by Samuels because no other colleges recruited him out of Roselle-Lake Park High School—scored a career-high 15 points.

"Dave Vance is going to be a fine, fine player at Eastern Illinois University," Samuels said. "There's things he does that the fans just don't see. Just look at his stats."

And a look at those stats tells quite a story. Vance shot 4-of-5 from the field and 7-for-8 at the free-throw line. He also grabbed three rebounds.

"I didn't know about this (Eastern-Western) rivalry until this year," Vance said. "I didn't feel any pressure until I came out for the game."

"(We) came out and (the crowd) fired us up and I was ready to play."

"We came out with a lot of fire," Samuels said. "We set a good tempo offensively early on."

Senior forward Cedric Wright paced Western with 20 points, while Scott McCants added 12.

Senior guard Daryl Reed, who scored the winning basket in Western's conference win over Southwest Missouri Saturday, tossed in 12 points to round out the Leathernecks' double-figure scorers.

but shifted back into a zone for most shooters. We wanted to make the of the second half when Eastern was holding comfortable leads.

"Western was being patient against the zone," Samuels explained. "We didn't feel like they had great standing from outside."

Eastern returns to action at 7 p.m. Saturday with an AMCU game at Wisconsin-Green Bay.

On track

Tracksters gearing up for season

By JOHN STROUD
Staff writer

With the feel of January cold in the outdoor air, Eastern's men's track team is busy lacing up its shoes in preparation for the indoor season.

The Panthers open the season with a meet Saturday against Southeast Missouri and Parkland Community College at Lantz Field House. The second of two non-scoring meets was held Saturday at Lantz to prepare the team for the coming competition.

Eastern recorded seven first places among a field of several individuals and teams from Illinois State, Northeast Missouri and Vincennes.

Larry Thoenissen was named outstanding field event athlete for Eastern after doubling up with wins in the 35-pound weight throw (53-7) and the shot put (53-11).

The track events were highlighted by Jim Maton's win in the two-mile (9:34.67) and third place in the 1000-yard run (2:14.57). Maton also ran a :51.1 leg on the winning mile relay team and was named outstanding track event athlete for his efforts.

With the first scoring meet right around the corner, Eastern coach Neil Moore is optimistic about the team's capabilities this season.

"Our primary goal is to win the (Association of Mid-Continent Universities') conference and qualify as many as we can for the NCAA indoor championships," Moore said.

"Basically we have a good team. I'm optimistic. But we have a lot of work ahead of us. We have potential, but we have to realize it," he added.

Moore believes the runners are ahead of schedule compared to last year and most of the field events are coming along as well. However, "we need a lot of work on the jumps," he said.

Eastern turned in good performances in the relay events in the all-comers meet Saturday, taking wins in both the distance medley and the mile relay.

A freshman record (10:45.5) was set in the distance medley by Fred Neal (2:00/880-yard), Gary Sharp (51.4/440-yard), Bruce Nie (3:14.2/¾-mile) and John Wells (4:39.3/mile).

The Panthers' mile relay team won with a time of 3:27.6. The team consisted of Scott Adomson (51.6), Maton (51.1), Dan Johnson (52.5) and Don Johnson (52.0).

Other first place performances for Eastern included Ian Issacs (50.93) in the 440-yard dash, Todd Jungenberg (45-½) in the triple jump and Rodney McMullen (EIU track club) with a time of 7.59 in the 60-yard hurdles.

Second-place finishers for Eastern included Roy Ellis in the 60-yard dash (6.46), Johnson in the 880-yard (1:55.79), Jungenberg in the long jump (21-7¼), Dan Matas in the shot put (53-5¾), Neal in the 440-yard dash (51.45), Kelly Swift in the triple jump (42-4) and Dan Newman in the three-mile (15:11.2).

"We have to be at our best to beat Southeast Missouri," Moore said. "At this point, no one is outstanding; they have to earn that."

"We've got a lot of potentially good people, but we've got to stay healthy—and eligible; there are so many variables," Moore added.

NCAA adopts new eligibility requirements

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—NCAA scholars, despite warnings from black educators that they might be creating an athletic apartheid, voted overwhelmingly Monday in favor of adopting the controversial Proposition 48.

The delegates put the finishing touches on the rule, which uses standardized test scores to set a new set of academic standards that some critics say could cause thousands of incoming freshmen to be ineligible next fall. Proposition 48 was passed at the 1983 NCAA convention and will take effect next August.

A number of predominantly black schools, joined by a few white institutions, had protested using the standardized ACT and SAT scores in the eligibility index because they are racially discriminatory.

The final vote making the test scores mandatory was 206-94.

Earlier in the day, delegates rejected a proposal for even larger margin two black-sponsored amendments to eliminate the test scores.

"I know you are familiar with apartheid," said Grambling President Joseph Johnson in reference to the South African policy of racial separation. "I ask the question—will this be the official name of the proposition? NCAA's apartheid? I pray that it won't."
